The HAP Foundation welcomes Larry Feldman as Board of Trustee

The HAP Foundation inducted five new members into its Board of Trustees including Larry Feldman. The HAP Foundation, an independent nonprofit, provides education, advocacy, workforce development, and research around hospice, palliative care, grief, and serious illness for children and adults. With the addition of these leaders, The HAP Foundation aims to leverage their knowledge and experience within their specialties to expand its reach. Feldman is a former resident of Skokie, IL.

“The HAP Foundation’s Board of Trustees remain committed through their strength, history, and keen vision for the future. Mr. Feldman’s passion for corporate and industry relations, the Jewish faith community, and advocacy make him a fitting addition to the Board of Trustees,” said Joseph Matty, President of The HAP Foundation. “I am confident of his impact and look forward to working with him as The HAP Foundation continues to grow.”

Feldman Biography:

Larry Feldman is the owner of AdvaCare Systems, which is the Midwest’s leading provider of durable medical equipment. Feldman has been an advocate and corporate partner with JourneyCare for many years in the past. He has renewed his support to hospice by investing in The HAP Foundation. Annually, Feldman holds the BG/AdvaCare Charity Golf Outing and donates part of the proceeds to The HAP Foundation (formerly the JourneyCare Foundation in previous years). Feldman has also been a corporate sponsor to several special events including the Butterfly Run, Walk, and Flutter and the inaugural HAP Heritage Event.
